A hand-drawn map of the Mediterranean region, showing the sea in blue and the surrounding landmasses in red and orange. The text "C'EST PARCE QUE TU VIENS DE SI LOIN, QUE TU RECHAUFFES MON CORPS" is written in white, stylized capital letters across the center of the map. The words "SEA" and "TERRA" are written in yellow at the top left, and "SOL" is written in yellow at the top right. A yellow circle is partially visible on the right edge.

A painting of a lone tree on a sandy beach. The tree has a thick, dark, curved trunk and a full canopy of green leaves. At its base is a large, dark, rounded rock. The ground is sandy and covered with many small, dark, rounded objects, possibly stones or shells. In the background, there is a body of water and a blue sky with white clouds. Three birds are flying in the sky. The painting is done in a realistic style with visible brushstrokes.
